Under Russian Command

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin sounded in Warsaw Tuesday the keynote for a conference of eight Communist nations to establish a unified NATO-type military alliance under a Russian commander.

"The situation in certain areas of the world has still been causing anxiety of late," Bulganin told newcomers at the Warsaw airport. "The peace-loving states of Europe cannot be indifferent to such a state of affairs. In the situation that has developed, the united efforts of our states are required and . . . new measures for the strengthening of their security."

Moscow radio broadcasts made it clear the conference opening in Poland's capital Wednesday is the Eastern bloc's reply to the rearmament of West Germany and her admission Monday as NATO's 15th member.

The conference is expected to bring the armies of Russia and its seven European satellites into a joint command under Soviet Marshal Ivan Konev.

The Moscow radio predicted the eight countries will "evolve measures which will enable them to meet any emergency and provocation and to forestall the possibility of sudden aggression from any quarter."

Western observers regard the move for a joint command—threatened at the Communists' security conference in Moscow last fall for the Paris treaties with West Germany was ratified—as a step to provide the legal basis for retaining Soviet troops in Hungary and Romania after the end of the four-power occupation of Austria.

These troops have had line-of-supply assignments in support of Soviet occupation forces in Austria. But the Austrian independence treaty, expected to be signed this weekend, calls for withdrawal of all the Big Four forces from Austria.

Man, Born Into Slavery, Observes 104th Birthday

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Benjamin A. (Dad) Trimble celebrated his 104th birthday Tuesday by: Getting up at 6 a.m., chopping wood, seeing a doctor for the first time in 60 years, and making plans for an airplane ride over a Seattle's aircraft plant so he can "pray down on those men."

The man who was born into slavery in Virginia says wood-chopping is a morning ritual. Late in the day he takes a brisk walk up and down Tacoma's hills, finishing with games and foot races with the neighbor children.

"It's how I keep young," said Trimble. "That and sassafras tea and putting my faith and trust in the Lord."

The last time I saw a doctor was about 60 years ago in Kansas City or some place like that. The man said I was in fine shape so I just didn't ever go back."

35 Die As Ferry Hits Freighter, Sinks Near Tokyo

TOKYO (Wednesday) (AP) — A railroad ferry carrying 735 passengers and 60 crewmen hit a freighter in early morning fog Wednesday and sank 25 minutes later in Japan's inland sea.

The Japan National Railways said 687 had been saved, 35 were known dead, 57 were injured and 16 were missing.

More than 300 of the passengers were touring school children. Rescue craft swarmed out from Uno port, 400 miles west of Tokyo, within minutes after the 1,500-ton ferry Shinu Maru collided at 7 a.m. with the 1,200-ton freighter Uda Maru.

The ferry was en route from Uno on Honshu Island to Takamatsu, 11 miles south of Shikoku Island.

Chinese Red MIGs, U.S. Sabre Jets Battle

TOKYO (Wednesday) (AP) — U. S. Sabre Jets and Chinese Red MIGs battled off North Korea Tuesday with both sides claiming victory. Peiping radio charged the United States with "a grave military provocation."

A U. S. Air Force announcement said 8 Sabres were attacked by from 12 to 16 MIGs over international waters, 2 MIGs were shot down and 1 probably was shot down. It said all Sabres returned safely.

CIO Steel Workers Meet To Decide On Wage Demand

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Policy makers of the big CIO United Steelworkers meet Wednesday to decide how much of a wage increase they want the booming steel industry to give 600,000 employees in basic steel making plants.

The 170 members of the Wage Policy Committee meet here at 2 p.m. That session will be preceded by a meeting of the 39-member Executive Board — made up of directors and international officers.

One thing is sure, the policy makers will keep in mind that the steel industry is producing at a record rate and has been operating near capacity since the first of the year.

Last week the industry turned over more steel than in any previous week in history. First quarter earnings for nearly all of the basic steel producing firms carried a rosy glow.

Union President David J. McDonald sent notices to 96 basic steel and iron ore mining companies last month saying the union wants a wage hike.

Urge Court Throw Out Conviction Of Cpl. Dickenson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Court of Military Appeals was urged Tuesday to throw out the conviction of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, first American soldier ever adjudged guilty of holding "unlawful communication" with the enemy while a prisoner of war.

Counsel for the 24-year-old Cracker's Neck, Va. soldier argued that the evidence under which Dickenson was convicted by a court-martial last year was insufficient to prove guilt and that no criminal action was proved.

The government has 30 days in which to answer the brief filed by Dickenson's civilian lawyer, Guy Emery, a retired Army officer. A hearing date then will be fixed for oral argument before the serviceman's supreme court.

Dickenson was granted an appeal on six charges of prejudicial error in the handling of the court-martial, which was held last April and May. The soldier was convicted of holding unlawful communication with the enemy and of informing on fellow prisoners. He was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

AEC HEAD GOES TO SPAIN

PARIS (AP) — Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, left Tuesday for talks in Madrid with Spanish officials on peaceful use of atomic energy. He has been in France since last Thursday for talks with French officials on the same subject after visiting Britain, Belgium and Denmark.

Pilots' Relatives Are Thrilled Over Downing Of Red MIGs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It was thrilling news to the homefolks—the valorous deeds of American pilots in shooting down two and perhaps three Communist MIG fighters off North Korea Tuesday.

But the biggest thrill to parents and wives was in learning their loved ones were safe after the battle.

The victorious fliers were Capt. R. V. Fulton, 30, Bernardsville, N. J.; Lt. B. C. Phythyon, 22, Wadsworth, Ohio, and Lt. J. E. McInerney, 24, Garden City, N.Y.

"Just wonderful!" exclaimed Fulton's mother. His wife, Jean, told newsmen the family was "thrilled and proud."

A Peiping radio broadcast said the Sabres intruded over some Manchurian islands off the coast and Red Chinese fighters shot down one Sabre and hit two others. It asserted the Sabres "then fled in the direction of South Korea." It mentioned no MIG losses.

"The U.S. authorities will have to bear full responsibility for all the grave consequences arising therefrom," said Peiping.

The Air Force gave no hint as to the nationality of the attackers. Peiping made it clear the MIGs were from "the air force of the Chinese People's Liberation Army."

The Air Force and Peiping versions agreed pretty well on where the clash took place. The Air Force said it was 50 miles southwest of the Korean border city of Sinuiju.

Peiping said it occurred about three miles west of the island of Talu. Talu is 40 miles southwest of the big Manchurian air base of Antung, which is just across the Yalu River from Sinuiju. The Red planes probably came from Antung.

It was the third attack in 16 months on U.S. planes in the skies off the west coast of North Korea. The Air Force announcement said the Sabres were on a regular patrol.

"After the MIGs began firing at the Sabres," the Air Force announcement said, "the American planes returned the fire."

"In the ensuing battle, two Communist pilots bailed out and the third plane was last seen diving straight down trailing smoke." Apparently writing off the third MIG as downed, the Air Force said "pilots who scored kills" were:

Capt. R. V. Fulton, Bernardsville, N. J.; Lt. B. C. Phythyon, Wadsworth, Ohio, and Lt. J. E. McInerney, Garden City, N. Y. They are assigned to the 35th Squadron of the 8th Fighter-Bomber Wing.

Two previous air clashes since the Korean armistice was signed in July 1953 have cost the Communists at least five MIGs with one probably shot down.

COLLINS COMPLETES SAIGON MISSION

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. J. Lawton Collins, President Eisenhower's special representative in Communist-ruled North Vietnam, will complete his mission there May 14.

The White House also announced Tuesday night that the new U. S. ambassador to Viet Nam, G. Frederick Reinhardt, will arrive in Saigon to assume his duties about May 20.

Collins, sent to Viet Nam last November by the President, recently returned there after a trip to the United States to report on the situation in Saigon and to testify before congressional committees on the administration's foreign aid program.

A White House statement said that after a short period of leave on his return to the United States, Collins will resume his duties as chief of the U. S. delegation to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization standing group in Washington.

Nuclear Powered Plant To Be Built By State Firms

CHICAGO (AP) — Plans for construction of a 45 million dollar nuclear powered electricity generating plant in Illinois were announced Tuesday by a group of public utilities firms.

Building of the 180,000-kilowatt plant about 45 miles southwest of Chicago has not yet received final approval of the Atomic Energy Commission, but it is understood by the utilities that the AEC nod depends only upon adequate engineering specifications.

The reactor-operated plant, to be completed in five years, is the largest yet proposed. Its sponsors say it will produce electricity at a per kilowatt cost approximately competitive with new coal-fired generating units in the area.

The project, organized under the name, Nuclear Power Group, includes the American Gas and Electric Service Corp.; Central Illinois Light Co.; Commonwealth Edison Co.; Illinois Power Co.; Pacific Gas and Electric Co.; and the Union Electric Co. of Missouri.

The plant will be built by General Electric Co., with the Bechtel Corp. of Chicago acting as engineer-constructor.

Soviet Backs Down On Concessions Of Oil To Austria

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Russia and the Big Three Western powers were deadlocked again Tuesday on a treaty of independence for Austria.

Russian delegates to the five-power conference refused once more to change the position they took Monday on the treaty's most important article, informed sources said.

The article deals with the future of former Nazi assets held by the Soviets in Austria.

Western sources said the ambassadors' conference cleared up some minor points in the treaty but could not reach agreement on disputed Article 35.

Ambassadors of the four powers and Austrian Foreign Minister Dr. Leopold Figl decided to try again Wednesday to finish drafting the treaty before arrival of their foreign ministers at the weekend.

Russian Ambassador Ivan I. Il'yichev refused Monday night to insert in the draft treaty, which is being prepared for the foreign ministers, the economic concessions made by the Kremlin last month when Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab went to Moscow.

Russia agreed then to return Austria's vast Zistersdorf oil fields, the Danube Shipping Co. and 300 industrial enterprises in return for payments in oil and goods by Austria. Originally, the Russians had insisted on keeping rights in the oil fields for 30 years.

Il'yichev insisted the original reparations demands should remain in the treaty, while the concessions would be made the subject of a bilateral agreement between the Soviet Union and Austria. The Western ambassadors opposed this on the ground that any such agreement which they did not sign might give the Russians an excuse for interfering with Austrian sovereignty in the future.

Foods In A-Test Look, Taste Fine Experts Decide

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Almost all frozen foods subjected to last Thursday's atomic explosion in Nevada looked and tasted fine Tuesday, nine experts decided.

The tasters sampled French fried potatoes, vegetables, strawberries, chicken pot pie, cod fish fillets and orange juice.

There were three portions of each tidbit. One was of freshly frozen food, which had not been in the atomic test. A second sample was from a freezer in a home 4,700 feet from the test tower. The third sample was from a freezer which had been buried under five inches of soil only 1,270 feet from ground zero.

Most of the verdicts Tuesday were that there was no change in the flavor, color, texture or appearance of the foods because of the A-blast.

However, two judges said the chicken pie and orange juice only 1,270 feet from the test tower were noticeably off flavor but not enough to make them substandard. None of the food was substandard of inedible.

Alaska, Hawaii Statehood Bill Defeated In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Tuesday night defeated a bill to grant statehood to Alaska and Hawaii.

By a 218-170 rollcall vote, the House sent the controversial measure back to its Insular Affairs Committee. A possibility remained that the committee will consider reporting out separate bills for Hawaii and Alaska later this year or next.

Three times in the past the House has passed separate bills to admit Hawaii to statehood and once approved a bill for Alaska.

Democratic sponsors presented the House a combined statehood measure for the first time this year. It provoked two days of debate before going back to committee.

Insular Affairs Committee Chairman Engle (D-Calif.) said the magnitude of the negative vote "raises a serious question" whether such separate measures for statehood would be successful.

Engle told newsmen supporters of the combined measure received no help from the House Democratic leadership and met active hostility from Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts and Asst. Leader Halleck of Indiana.

Report Results Of New Tranquilizing Drug Encouraging

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Three Illinois doctors today reported "most encouraging" results in a relatively new tranquilizing drug called Frenquel in the treatment of mildly disturbed mental patients.

The outstanding feature in use of the drug, they said, is "the absence of any untoward side reactions," such as lowering of blood pressure or alterations in the heart rate.

Such reactions, another doctor said, are possible with two other new tranquilizing drugs—reserpine and chlorpromazine—although "these complications have been minor up to the present time."

Dr. H. E. Himwich and two colleagues of Galesburg State Hospital, in a prepared report to the American Psychiatric Assn., 11th annual meeting, did not mention the reserpine and chlorpromazine by name.

Joan Crawford Marries Business Tycoon, Steele

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Joan Crawford, the movies' most durable star, Tuesday took a business tycoon for her fourth husband in an elopement that "surprised almost everyone."

The 47-year-old actress, whose 30 years in films have made her the unofficial "queen" of Hollywood, eloped with Alfred N. Steele, 54, president of the Pepsi-Cola Co. She is his third wife.

Miss Crawford told a reporter in a phone call at the Flamingo Hotel's bridal suite she will spend a few days in Hollywood finishing up her picture, then she and her husband will return Wednesday to New York City.

Joan said she and Steele had planned to get married sometime after the close of her current picture.

Then Monday night at a restaurant the decision was made to fly to Las Vegas in Steele's private plane. The ceremony was performed at 2:10 a.m. in the hotel penthouse suite.

PRINCE CHARLES WILL GO TO SCHOOL
LONDON (AP) — Buckingham Palace said Tuesday night 6-year-old Prince Charles, heir to the throne, is going to school and mingle with other children.

A letter to British newspapers from Cmdr. Richard Colville, press secretary to Queen Elizabeth II, asked editors to let the prince go his schoolboy way without too much buildup as a celebrity.

Just what instruction the Queen had in mind for her son was not announced. There are several fashionable private schools not far from the palace.

UTAH GIVES POLIO SHOTS—Scott Isaacson gets polio shot from Dr. George Miller at Salt Lake City, Utah, after the state's polio vaccine was declared safe. Utah is the only state in the Union to resume inoculations at this time.

Hobby, Scheele Refuse To Testify At Hearing Investigating Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Hobby and Surgeon Gen. Leonard Scheele have declined to testify Wednesday before a House committee investigating the handling of the Salk polio vaccine.

Rep. Spence (D-Ky.) reported Tuesday night both Mrs. Hobby and Scheele insisted they "simply could not come now." He added they advised him they would have more information at a later date.

Spence heads the House Banking Committee which is conducting the inquiry. He said he was not criticizing their action because he knows "they are in a difficult position."

Scheele, whose Public Health Service is part of Mrs. Hobby's Department of Health, Education and Welfare, urged over the weekend that polio vaccinations be halted while the government double checked methods of producing the vaccine.

Previously the surgeon general had advised that the inoculation program continue even though a small number of children—52 out of several million, at the latest count—had come down with polio after receiving their shots.

Spence said he told Mrs. Hobby and Scheele their testimony was needed so the committee could assess the value of several pending bills for federal control over vaccine distribution and prices. They were not subpoenaed to appear, merely invited to come.

A reliable congressional source said late Tuesday he had been advised that Health Service officials were awaiting word from a meeting of scientists in Detroit Wednesday. This source said the scientists apparently were ready to report on results of their recheck of vaccine production at the Parke, Davis Laboratories.

A Health Service announcement issued at about the same time, however, said the reappraisal of Parke, Davis production methods would not start until Wednesday. It stated Dr. William G. Workman, chief of the U. S. Laboratory of Biologic Control, will head the investigation. (Continued on Page Eleven)

Pentagon Ends Chance Of Gen. MacArthur Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pentagon five-star ranks for the four top turnaround apparently has ended any immediate chance that Congress will consider promoting Gen. Douglas MacArthur to the rank of general of the armies.

Five bills and resolutions have been introduced to give MacArthur that title, heretofore conferred only upon the late Gen. John J. Pershing.

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) said the Department of Defense had written him that singling out MacArthur for the honor would be "misleading" and cause both "misunderstanding and controversies."

Vinson, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said in an interview that in view of the Pentagon stand, "the committee has no intention to taking up the question at present."

The committee has jurisdiction over the bills calling for MacArthur's promotion. Richard A. Buddeke, director of legislative programs, outlined the Defense Department's views in a letter to Vinson dated March 18. Buddeke said that during World War II Congress created special

Warn Not To Expect Too Much

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower joined with the leaders of Britain and France Tuesday to invite Soviet Premier Bulganin to a top level Big Four meeting aimed at removing "sources of conflict" between the Western Powers and Russia.

The three Western nations delivered to the Foreign Ministry in Moscow a note proposing a two-stage approach to solutions of the great East-West problems. At the same time it had the effect of warning peoples all over the world against expecting too much from the long talked of meeting "at the summit."

"We recognize that the solution of these problems will take time and patience," the Western Powers told Russia, in forthright language. "They will not be solved at a single meeting nor in a hasty manner."

The session would bring together Eisenhower, Bulganin, British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Edouard Faure. The exact time and place would be determined by the foreign ministers.

The note was released simultaneously in Washington, London, and Paris. It was obviously written in the knowledge that it would be made public and that what it said would have a great impact on world peace hopes which have long focused upon top level four power talks.

The two stages proposed to Moscow for an attack on "the great problems which confront us" were these:

First, an early meeting of the heads of government to be preceded by a brief session of the four power foreign ministers. The government chiefs would try to formulate "the issues to be worked on" and the methods to be followed in working on them.

The time and place of the top level sessions are yet to be determined. The foreign ministers would meet at the same place and their session would merge into the meeting of their chiefs.

Second, detailed work on the problems along lines laid out by the head men—this work to be carried on "by such methods, organs and participants as it appears will be most fruitful according to the nature of the issues."

The note did not specify what issues the Western leaders want to take up with the Soviets.

The West told Russia that the procedure suggested would facilitate the preparation and orderly negotiation most likely to bring about agreements "by progressive stages."

SENATOR WITH STATURE

When Senator Arthur Vandenberg died in 1951, a great champion of bipartisanship in foreign affairs passed from the scene. There was a feeling another might not easily be found. The feeling was right.

But four years later, one has at last appeared. He is Senator Walter George, Democrat of Georgia, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the 84th Congress.

George today is exercising more power and influence than any man in the U. S. Senate in many years. Until he assumed his new chairmanship, he was noted as the Senate's supreme tax expert. Now his influence spreads across both the domestic and foreign field.

Neither Vandenberg nor the late Senator Taft, another powerful leader, had as broad a competence as George, nor commanded as wide respect among Senate colleagues.

A veteran of 33 years in the Senate and 50 in public life, the placid Georgian is not yet beyond the necessity of winning elections. He may face ex-Governor Herman Talmadge in 1956. Yet somehow, in his 78th year, he has reached a summit above conventional politics.

A man does not acquire stature overnight. George has been shaping and honing his legislative skills for long years, and employing them much in his country's interest.

But in 1955, the man and the moment have met. His moderate, assured approach matches the mood of Congress and the nation. He has turned his talents to foreign matters, where he perceives that the need of his country—and his President—is greatest.

That this President happens to be Mr. Eisenhower, a Republican, has not deflected George from the course of statesmanship he has chosen. On the contrary, this fact may contribute to the challenge he feels.

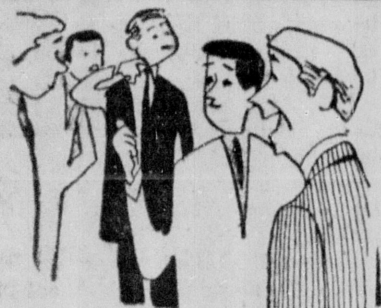

The senator has given the President the kind of assistance he might well have hoped for from his own party leadership in the Senate, but did not get after Taft's death.

With America striving to chart its way in perilous times, George has helped Congress and the government and the American people speak with nearly one voice on critical issues. He has wisely stepped ahead when Mr. Eisenhower needed some public expression to open the way for proposals on big power talks, or assistance on correcting a too-hasty reaction to such a proposition as Chou En-lai's bid for Formosa discussions.

Some men in both parties do not subscribe to George's temperate course. A few are extremists who find the middle road intolerably confining. Others believe that partisan attack must always be the order of the day.

But the venerable gentleman from little Vienna, Georgia, has been around longer than his critics—long enough to learn that there are times and places where the best politics is no politics at all.

NEW YORK (AP)—I suppose that now, 10 years after the war ended it is fair to start passing out medals.

Lt. Col. Jay Vessels of the U. S. Air Force is my first candidate. Jay never piloted a plane. But he ruled the skies over Tunisia with his typewriter.

Jay left his secure newspaper post in Minneapolis to join the Army because he was a rip-roaring patriot.

He had been an enlisted infantryman in the first world war, and they made him an officer in the second world war. He rose from lieutenant to lieutenant colonel but never lost his fear of sergeants.

I don't know what gave him that sense of rank claustrophobia, but a guy with three stripes always frightened him more than a guy with three stars.

Jay lost his heart at the start to the P40 pilots, guys who fought the better equipped German fighters to a draw with a slower, low-altitude but heavier armored plane.

His heroes at that time were Col. Phil Cochran and Capt. Levi Chase of New York. Both were great leaders. Capt. Chase was also a great teacher. It was his duty to teach his pilots that in terms of speed and climb they were behind the Germans, but by using the P40 within its limits they could compete with the enemy.

Capt. Chase himself became the leading ace of the North African theater by shooting down 10 Germans. A quiet man, he never sought combat. When he was jumped, he stayed low, kept turning into the German, and when the German finally made a mistake he used his firepower to knock him from the sky.

Jay Vessels became the unofficial biographer of the P40 boys. When they had a good day they bragged, when one of them died he cried. He knew every single one of them.

He dragged Ernie Pyle and every other correspondent into meeting his boys, writing about his boys and sometimes flying with his boys.

The last I heard from Jay he was down in Texas running a place called "no horse ranch." But I'm sure that whenever a plane throbs overhead he looks up and remembers the days in Tunisia when stubborn courage shored up a falling sky.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on polio vaccine.

Dr. Leonard Scheele, surgeon general on the U. S. Public Health Service, has urged that all anti-polio vaccinations be stopped. For how long? This is indefinite. Scheele says some vaccinations might begin again in a week.

Why stop them now? So the government can make a more thorough check on the vaccines turned out by five manufacturers. The step was taken after Scheele had been in consultation several days with some of the country's top experts in the field of polio and vaccination, including Dr. Jonas Salk who developed the vaccine.

Of the five million children vaccinated since mid-April, 52, have developed polio and 44 of the 52 were given vaccine made by one manufacturer, Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif.

Scheele Sunday expressed confidence in the vaccine of four of the manufacturers. None of that made by a fifth firm has yet been used. But Scheele said there is a "definite" association between the Cutter vaccine and the polio which developed in 44 children after they received it.

On April 27, after eight children treated with the Cutter vaccine came down with polio, Scheele was reassuring. Although on that day he ordered all Cutter vaccine withdrawn from use, he said:

"There is no reason to suspect that vaccination itself caused the polio. The action in this one instance does not indicate even that the batches of vaccine which were used were in any way faulty."

Sunday, after noting a "definite" association between the Cutter vaccine and polio in the children who received it, Scheele said the Cutter product will remain suspended until the connection, if any, is established.

On April 12 announcement was made that Dr. Salk's vaccine, widely tested in 1954, was 60 to 90 per cent successful in preventing polio. That test was sponsored and paid for by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

In the belief the test would be successful, the foundation arranged with the pharmaceutical companies to go ahead and manufacture vaccine to be held for distribution if the test turned out all right.

Immediately after the April 12 announcement, the manufacturers turned the vaccine loose with government approval.

Since the government is going to make a thorough check of the vaccine now, why didn't it check thoroughly before the manufacturers released any of it? A spokesman for the public health service gave some reasons:

1. These firms were experienced in making it, since they had made it last year, and last year the government had checked them thoroughly, in the successful 1954 test; 2. everyone, government and doctors, has more knowledge now, and so on.

If vaccine caused any of the 52 polio attacks among those vaccinated, how could it happen? A number of explanations have been offered. Maybe none of them is right. This is the most familiar one:

Polio is caused by a virus. The vaccine contains dead viruses which are supposed to stimulate the body into offsetting live viruses if they get into the bloodstream. It has been suggested that maybe some of the viruses used in the vaccine were not dead but alive and set to work right away causing polio.

But it has not been established yet that any of the vaccine was to blame for the 52 polio attacks among the vaccinated children.

Improved Methods Big Boon To Brain-Tumor Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Does a brain tumor always show in an X-ray film? How does a brain tumor affect a person? These are questions recently received which raise the question of brain tumors in general.

In answer to these specific questions it should be said that a brain tumor may not show in an X-ray film and other tests are always necessary. What symptoms result from a brain tumor depend on the location of the tumor and its size. Many tests are available but a high degree of skill and training in diagnosis is necessary before a brain tumor can be diagnosed and its location determined.

Most of us never develop a brain tumor but it is helpful to know that the diagnostic methods have so greatly improved in recent years that the chances of a successful operation are better now than ever before.

Much of the credit for the great progress in this field goes to the pioneer nerve and brain surgeon, the late Dr. Harvey Cushing. His long and painstaking studies on human beings and animals played a large part in developing new methods of surgical treatment of the nervous system. Many others have made their contributions too, and though one does not like to think of it, the casualties of both world wars made possible the development of new techniques which have greatly speeded the progress of neurosurgery.

Aside from wartime injuries there are a number of conditions for which this kind of operation may be needed. Accidents can happen in peacetime also and a portion of the skull is crushed in, the relief of pressure and other measures used by the brain surgeons can, and often has been, lifesaving. Many brain tumors also can be operated on successfully and this, as is easy to imagine, is a complicated affair. First, the location in the brain must be determined. To do this requires an intimate knowledge of the functions of various parts of the brain so that the symptoms can be analyzed and the necessary tests taken and correctly interpreted.

Surgery on the spinal cord is hardly less complicated. Here, too, injuries, tumors and other disorders require difficult diagnostic methods before surgery is even considered. Only when it has been decided where in the spinal cord the trouble lies and its probable nature it is possible to plan the operation. There are delicate nerve connections here as well as in the brain, and the surgeon has to have a steady hand.

Brain surgery, heart surgery, and lung surgery were each in their day considered almost impossible fields for practical work. The triumphs which have already been accomplished in these fields show that almost nothing is impossible given the intelligence, the will, the money, and the time.

There will always be unsolved problems in medicine but surely the progress so far made compares favorably with that in any other field.

Quite a few toothless citizens appeared to claim the dentures, the library said.

Soil Stewardship Is Topic For Sermons in Churches

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—May 15 has been designated as "Soil Stewardship Sunday." The idea is to have preachers remind their congregations that man has a sacred obligation to be a good conservationist of the Lord's precious land and water.

Observance will, of course, be greater in country churches and the small towns than it will in the cities. But since city people are so dependent upon the farm lands for sustenance, there should be nationwide interest.

This is the first year that any attempt has been made to observe Soil Stewardship Sunday as a national event. Nine years ago the publishers of Farm and Ranch magazine suggested to a few religious leaders in the South that one Sunday each year should be set aside for sermons and prayers on man's duty to tend the soil well.

The fifth Sunday after Easter was suggested. The magazine offered to provide texts, sermon suggestions and factual material.

THIS SIMPLE SEED suggestion fell upon fertile ground. The harvest was a demand for this material so great that last year the magazine editors asked the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts to share sponsorship.

Now N.A.S.D. is no prissy, psalm-singing group. It is a tough-minded bunch of farmers who will fight at the drop of a broad-brimmed hat for every water right. But it knows there is no greater crusade today than that to save America's soil. The signs are on every hand.

President Eisenhower has sent to Congress a special message outlining a program to aid the fourth of America's farmers who get only a meager living from the soil.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has made a tour of the dust bowl in the Great Plains states to see what can be done to save the soil from ruin by suitcase farmers.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby has gone before Congress to testify on extension of the water pollution control act which expires June 30. She pointed out that the nation's water supply is constant. It was abundant for 75 million population in 1900. Will it be enough in 1975, when industrialization will be vastly greater and the population may be 200 million?

THE U. S. SENATE has passed a Department of Agriculture appropriation bill for next year, raising by 55 million dollars the administration's request for 195 million dollars for soil conservation work by the federal government.

In two of the Eisenhower administration's planning agencies are as yet unrevealed programs which may recommend drastic changes in U. S. soil and water conservation policies. They are the Commission on Government Reorganization headed by ex-President Herbert Hoover and the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, headed by Meyer Kestbaum.

Rumored to be under consideration are proposals to take soil conservation work out of the hands of the federal government and return it to control by state and local agencies. This would reduce soil conservation from a principal function of the Department of Agriculture to a subordinate role in a more general farm program. The issue has been a submerged battle among farm organizations for years.

CHANGES IN BASIC crop acreage allotments under the general farm program may shift crops in such a way as to influence soil conservation practices greatly in coming years.

So soil conservation and water resources policy are in politics to the very limit. This makes them doubly something to pray for on Soil Stewardship Sunday.

Walter Loudermilk, one of the fathers of American soil conservation practice, went some 15 years ago to the Middle East to learn why ancient civilizations had perished. He found the answer in the wasting of land and water resources, even in the Garden of Eden and the Promised Land.

He wrote from there what has become known as the Eleventh Commandment, that Moses should have given his people:

"Thou shalt inherit the holy earth as a faithful steward. . . . If any shall fail . . . thy fruitful fields shall become sterile . . . and thy descendants shall decrease and live in poverty or perish from the face of the earth."

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The trend in the movie industry continues away from big studio operations and toward more independent production.

Exhibitors have been waiting about not having enough new pictures to keep their theaters booked. The big studios have drastically cut production because run-of-the-mill pictures no longer pay off. Only the special attractions make money.

It's up to the independents to fill in the gap, and they are thriving as never before. United Artists, which finances and releases films for independents, plans to put out 45 pictures this year, compared to an average of 30 for the majors.

And now all of the major companies are releasing films for independents. Even MGM changed its tradition to handle movies for Desi Arnaz, Samuel Goldwyn, David Selznick and others.

How does an independent operate?

Take the case of Robert Aldrich, who is now producing and directing "The Big Knife" with a cast that would give credit to any studio: Jack Palance, Ida Lupino, Shelley Winters, Wendell Corey, Rod Steiger, Jean Hagen, Ilka Chase and Everett Sloane.

The project started five years ago, when Aldrich was a successful movie production manager (he handled all the business details). Having worked on a number of John Garfield pictures, he was in New York when the late actor starred in Clifford Odets' "The Big Knife." It was the story of a male star's temptations in Hollywood.

The play was a flop, but Aldrich saw film possibilities — "Odets' personal bitterness against Hollywood were removed," Aldrich whipped up a script, which he wanted to direct in films.

Palance accepted the lead, and Aldrich presented his package to the money-men. The budget came to $425,000, of which $263,000 was for the cast. This is amazingly low, considering the size of the cast. A similar project on a major lot would probably run a million and a half dollars.

Within three days of getting the green light from the backers, Aldrich was in production. He helped shave costs by using an ancient but adequate studio near downtown Los Angeles.

He hopes to complete the film in 15 days, barring temperament — "That's one thing you can't budget."

He got a bit of temperament from Shelley Winters, but he can't really complain. Her work was supposed to be finished in one day, but took two.

ADVANCE BOOKING

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1956 International Flower Show has been booked into the still a-building New York Coliseum for next March 5 to 12. It may be the first exhibit to be held there.

The show, a harbinger of spring for more than 40 years except during the war, was cancelled this year because it ended up $25,000 in the red in 1954 when it was held in a hall outside the center of the city.

Wise Mom Looks to Day Daughter Outgrows Teens

She sees that she has dancing lessons; that her clothes are pretty and becoming; that she is an accepted member of her group; that she feels free to entertain at home; that she is allowed and even encouraged to start dating as soon as other girls do.

But in a great many cases the mother who is concerned with making her daughter available for marriage isn't much interested in preparing her daughter for marriage.

The number of teen-age girls today who can't cook (outside of making a batch of cookies from a mix, or warming up a frozen dinner) is amazing.

The number who leave it to Mother to let out a hem in a skirt or sew on a button is unbelievable.

"KNOW-HOW" IS IMPORTANT

And the girls who get away with leaving their beds unmade, their clothes hung around on chairs and who would think they were being mistreated if they were expected to wash the dishes or scrub the bathroom floor are increasing in number.

Too many mothers think they are bringing up their daughters successfully if the girls know how to look pretty, get dates, win popularity contests, and show other evidences of "belonging."

But what is going to stand a girl in good stead later when she has gotten a husband and is knowing how to manage money, how to run a house, how to get along with other women, how to use her time constructively when she is no longer the center of a gay crowd.

So it is a wise mother who looks far enough ahead to see that her daughter won't always be a teen-ager.

It's a wise mother who starts early teaching her daughter not just what a girl needs to know but what a woman needs to know and be able to do.

Soviet Satellites Seem Split Between Old Line, New Way

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

For almost a year there was a glimmer of hope in the little Moscow of Eastern Europe.

Stalin was dead. Beria, his secret police boss, was dead, too. The apparatus of cold terror seemed to be breaking down.

A new Soviet premier, Georgi Malenkov, was seeking to buttress himself by promising the Soviet population shoes as well as guns, iceboxes and television as well as tanks and warplanes.

Whatever happens in the Soviet Union is reflected at once in the captive countries, and throughout satellite Europe the reversal was on. Farmers, under the much-advertised "new course," were free leaving the hated collectives, a concession the governments hoped would spur their production. In the heavy industrial factories, there was an indication of lessening pressure on the workers.

The hope is fading today, and the little Malenkovs—who remain—walk in dread. They seem to be on the short end of a struggle for power that is a reflection of what goes on in the Kremlin.

At the moment, Soviet communism seems split into two camps. On one side is the left—or Stalinist—wing representing a hard line. On the other is the so-called "new course" or right wing representing a softer line. At the moment, the hard-line revolutionary Communists of the left seem to be winning, but the issue is not finally decided.

For Western observers in Europe, the satellites represent a convenient mirror for what goes on inside the Soviet Union. The mirror seems to show:

1. The whole terror apparatus constructed over the postwar years of Stalinism in the satellites has been disrupted.
2. Political indecision at highest levels has been induced by uncertainty over the outcome in Moscow.
3. Agriculture, the cancer tumor of the Communist world, is in a state of near anarchy. The chaos was aggravated by the fact that under Malenkov, brief concessions were made to the farmers. The concessions cannot be yanked back too suddenly. But gradually and cautiously, the hard-line leadership is beginning to pull the reins.

The reconstruction of the terror system already has begun throughout the satellites. Today, highly nervous Communist leaders—Boris Bierut of Poland, Rakosi, Vuklo Chervenkov of Bulgaria, Iem Siroky of Czechoslovakia, Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej of Romania—nervously eye the news from Moscow. They have a big stake—perhaps their lives—in the outcome.

It may still have been a bit too early for Rakosi to act in Hungary. The leaders of the other satellite countries were more cautious. Malenkov still had powerful support in Moscow. Before the group headed by the Soviet party boss, N. S. Krushchev, and the new premier, Marshal N. A. Bulganin, could be sure of victory, they would have to win over or relegate gradually to some sort of oblivion those in high places who still supported Malenkov. The latter, personifying for the population the dream of a flow of consumer goods, remained more generally popular than Khrushchev.

When heads begin to roll again in the satellites, it will be a firm indication for the Western world of the outcome in Moscow.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Doughty old Winston Churchill has finally won his point about a Big Four conference, now that it is too late for him to go.

Eisenhower, Bulganin, Eden and Faure are going to meet for an informal discussion of world problems—just what Churchill suggested two years ago.

It seemed certain that Russia would accept the three-power invitations extended Tuesday. Only Monday night Bulganin reiterated his desire for such a meeting, and Krushchev, big wheel of the Soviet regime, seemed to put his seal of approval on it.

Richard Kasischke, Associated Press correspondent in Moscow, asked Krushchev if it was a fact that he was really the works behind Bulganin, and got a laughing kiss-off. But when asked if the positions were such that he himself might have to attend a top-level conference, Krushchev replied:

"If Bulganin goes, I do not have to go to look over his shoulder."

Since the Western Powers had telegraphed their punch over the weekend, permitting stories about the prospective invitations to get out in advance, it seems obvious that both Bulganin and Krushchev were talking against a background of fairly complete knowledge, even though the Allied notes were not delivered until yesterday.

This will be the first meeting of chiefs of state of the two contesting blocs in 10 years. At that time, Churchill and then Attlee met with Truman and Stalin at Potsdam to make arrangements for control of postwar Europe.

Since that time the Reds have grabbed China, Czechoslovakia, North Korea, Tibet and northern Viet Nam. They have consolidated their grip on Eastern Europe.

The time they have fought their war for the minds of men, have attained a measure of affinity with India and Indonesia.

The Allies have fought a war to save South Korea, helped Greece save herself, protected Iran, Turkey, Formosa and West Germany. America helped save off internal Communist control in France and Italy. Fourteen nations formed the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which has just admitted a newly independent West Germany. The United States has entered into mutual defense arrangements with 46 nations around the globe.

Cold war has threatened to turn into hot war on several occasions besides in Korea. Development of atomic weapons has made the world jittery lest it happen yet. The Allies, naively disarmed after 1945, now represent a terrific military force which they hope will eventually force the Reds to reconsider their self-imposed enmity for all the rest of the world.

The world has changed greatly since Potsdam, and the Allies, at least, now see the issues with a great deal more clarity.

What is the difference between stocks and bonds?

Question submitted by Wm. W. Word, St. Paul, Minn., Realtor.

If you own stock in a company, you own a part interest in the company. If the company is successful, and if dividends are paid, you share in the profits. When you are a bondholder, you are a creditor—not a part owner. The company has agreed to repay you the amount borrowed at a specified time, and usually to pay you a fixed annual rate of interest during the term of the "loan." This interest is payable before stockholders get any dividends.

Basically, there are two kinds of stock: common and preferred. Common-stock dividends can vary from year to year. A preferred-stock dividend is usually a fixed amount, no matter how well the company does, but in most cases it must be paid before common stockholders get anything.

Owners of most common stocks have the right to vote at stockholders' meetings but owners of preferred stock usually have no voting privileges.

Any Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange can furnish you with the latest available information about the 1,526 common and preferred stocks and 840 corporate bonds listed on the Exchange. Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance and was originated by Houbigant. Try their Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at LONG'S PHARMACY

World's Population Is In Surging Rise Despite Fact Two Billion People Are Near Starvation

WASHINGTON (AP)—As a typical American, you are eating some 1,540 pounds of food a year.

The Department of Agriculture says this includes 151 pounds of meat, 315 pounds of vegetables, 397 eggs, 352 pounds of milk and cream, plus a profusion of other items. You may even be trying not to eat so much.

By contrast, experts estimate perhaps two billion people in the world are hungry every day, all day.

Dr. Julian Huxley, the British biologist, fixes the undernourished at more than three quarters of the human race.

Robert C. Cook, director of the Population Reference Bureau in Washington puts it even higher. “Nearly four fifths,” he says, “subsist under conditions near the verge of starvation.”

Nevertheless, world population is in a surging rise.

Cook says parts of the globe are ripe for an “explosion” of population—with serious military political and economic potentialities to the United States and the other free nations.

Red China recently made news in this connection.

The government said it had completed a census. China's population usually had been estimated at 400 to 500 million.

Peiping now says it is 562,603,417!

And it is increasing, the report adds, at more than 11 million a year.

American census authorities look with some skepticism at the new total. However, they believe the census findings may be closer than the previous estimates.

What Peiping did not say was how these new millions will be fed. For centuries, China has been the land of famine. Agriculture experts estimate an acre of arable land in China must support—in the sense of bare survival—about seven times as many people as an acre of farmland in the United States.

Where will the Chinese hordes look for food? Toward the “rice bowl of Asia,” perhaps? Toward Burma, Siam and Indochina?

Cook believes this is inevitable. India's annual increase is five million. The government has established nearly 200 “family planning clinics.”

United Nations analysts estimate the earth's population at 2½ billion. They say it is increasing at 32 million a year.

If true, this equals a new community the size of Sioux City, Iowa—over 85,000—every 24 hours. Or it means a new “nation” bigger than Spain or Poland appears every year.

What's causing this biological ground swell?

Apparently, not the birth rate. It remains more or less constant, or even declines in some countries.

The answer, scientists say, is in a reduction of the death rate. New weapons for fighting disease—cheap, easy and effective—keep people alive in underdeveloped countries. Fewer babies die in infancy. More people live long enough to have children.

Dr. Robert Geisell, of the University of Michigan, has called overpopulation the “O-bomb,” and said it is more dangerous than atomic weapons. Dr. Alan Gregg, of the Rockefeller Foundation, likens it to cancer, eating through the healthy parts of the world.

Examples are everywhere:

Japanese officials reported more than a million abortions a year in Japan.

Ceylon cut its death rate so radically in one year that it now faces a doubled population in 25 years.

Puerto Rico has more than doubled since 1900. So has Egypt.

How does the problem touch the United States?

With a population of 164 million, the number of Americans per square mile is very low compared to most countries. No food problem exists. And the American standard of living is the highest in the world.

It shows no signs of declining even though the population should reach the projected 200 million mark in 20 years.

Nevertheless, surveys have disclosed causes for concern, potential difficulties reaching out toward American shores from the population pressures of other countries.

One is in the field of materials. The gigantic American industrial system draws heavily on raw materials of other nations.

Many of these nations are now striving to build their own industries. They hope to provide a livelihood, in factories, for great masses of people who now scratch a precarious existence from the land—and who are growing increasingly restive and dangerous.

The same process has been going on for a long time in the United States. Today, only 12 percent of the total labor force works on farms. A century ago, the figure was around 65 percent.

A presidential commission, headed by radio executive William S. Paley, conducted an exhaustive study in 1951 and reported:

1. American consumption of petroleum, rubber, manganese, iron ore and zinc exceeds that of all the rest of the free world. Statistics were not available from the Communist nations.

2. Of 72 strategic and critical materials, the United States imports all of its supplies in more than 40, and part of its supplies in all the rest.

3. The United States is using up its domestic reserves faster than other free nations.

“In area after area,” the report said, “the same pattern seems discernible... the ultimate threat of an arrest or decline in the standard of living we cherish and hope to help others to attain.”

The picture is not entirely dark, however.

Governor Suspends Boxing For 90 Days; To Study Johnson Case

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader Tuesday suspended boxing in Pennsylvania for 90 days as an aftermath of the sudden collapse of light heavyweight Harold Johnson in the ring during a nationally televised bout with Julio Mederos in Philadelphia last Friday night.

The governor's ban—announced after a 90-minute meeting with members of the State Athletic Commission—does not affect fights already scheduled and advertised.

Commissioner Alfred M. Klein said a complete report on Johnson's condition after he was carried from the ring on a stretcher showed he "undoubtedly had drugs in his body."

Earlier in Philadelphia, a police source disclosed that an urinalysis performed on Johnson revealed the presence of barbiturate.

Johnson, No. 1 contender for the 175-pound crown, was a 4-1 favorite in the scheduled 10-rounder. He collapsed in his corner and was unable to answer the bell for the third round. Mederos was awarded a technical knockout victory.

Johnson, who almost fell into the ring at the start and appeared to be sick throughout the two rounds of the fight, sank to his knees in the second round without being hit.

The police source, who declined to be identified, said the information on the urinalysis was obtained from Hahnemann hospital officials. He said the finding did not mean Johnson was under the influence of the drug. A barbiturate is commonly used to induce sleep and relaxation. It is not listed as a narcotic.

Johnson has been in the hospital ever since he was carried out of the arena on a stretcher Friday night. He has been undergoing a series of extensive tests and has been questioned extensively by detectives.

The police source said authorities are inclined to discount Johnson's post-fight tale of an orange given him the day of the fight by a swarthy stranger and which the fighter is supposed to have complained tasted bitter and made him sick in the dressing room.

2 Games Today; No Activity Yesterday

Believe it or not but the sun was shining last evening when this article was being written so if it's any indication of what is coming today, the two baseball games involving two local teams may be played.

Yesterday's scheduled PMBC conference battle between Perry and ISD was postponed until May 19. The Jacksonville Freshman-Sophomore track meet at Jerseyville was also postponed yesterday and coach Clary indicated last night it will be hard for the meet to be rescheduled since it's close to District time.

Two local nines will brave the weather this afternoon and attempt to get conference games out of the way. The Routt Rockets journey to Perry for a PMBC contest, with the Pioneers while the Illinois College Blueboys are scheduled to be in action for the first time in over a week as they journey to Greenville for a PCC attraction.

Tomorrow afternoon the Jacksonville Crimsoms play host to Lanphier of Springfield on the JHS diamond while on the IC field, the sub-district tourney gets started with ISD meeting Chandlerville.

District activity will continue on the local scene Saturday with a doubleheader program. Routt and Virginia tangle at 1:30 while JHS and the ISD-Chandlerville winner meet in the second game.

Greene Grade Track Meet Fri.

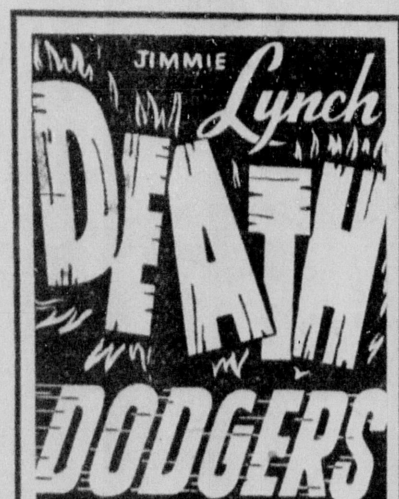

The annual Greene County Grade School track and field meet will be held this Friday, May 13 at Roodhouse. Roodhouse Junior High coach Howard DeGroot announced the meet will be held in both afternoon and evening sessions, with the night events being run off under the lights.

Court Delays Alimony Ruling On Williams

MIAMI (AP)—Ted Williams was effectively benched Tuesday by a court's delay in ruling on alimony he must pay his former wife.

Mrs. Doris Soule Williams, whom the Boston Red Sox star married at Pensacola, Fla., 11 years ago while in the Navy, won an uncontested divorce decree Monday.

A busy court calendar Tuesday delayed decision by Circuit Judge E. Holt. Judge Holt said he may get to it Wednesday if other business permitted.

One of Mrs. Williams' lawyers indicated she had agreed to a lump sum settlement. Asked in court how much she would need for support of herself and their 7-year-old daughter Barbara, Mrs. Williams replied, "I have no idea."

It was generally believed that Williams would do nothing about returning to baseball until the court decided how big a cut his ex-wife would get from his pay. Some said he'd quit playing if he considered her slice too big.

CIUCCI EXECUTION POSTPONED

CHICAGO (AP)—The execution of Vincent Ciucci, accused of killing his wife and three children because of his love for another woman, Tuesday was postponed from Friday until Sept. 16.

Ciucci, 29, was convicted of murdering his wife, Ann, 28, his son, Vincent Frank, 9; and daughter, Angelina, 4, on Dec. 15, 1953. A murder indictment based on the death of Virginia, 7, is pending. Their bodies were found in the ruins of their home and grocery which had been destroyed by fire, but they also had been shot.

Ciucci's counsel, George N. Leighton, told Judge Arthur J. Murphy in Criminal Court he is unable to appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court because he lacks certain records that must be supplied by the court clerk's office.

Cards Trip Phils 5-3 On Virdon's Homer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill Virdon's two-run homer in the 10th inning Tuesday night broke a seven-game losing streak for the St. Louis Cardinals and handed the Philadelphia Phillies a 10th consecutive defeat, 5-3.

Virdon's homer, his fourth, went into the right field pavilion from which a protective screen had been removed this season after 25 years and was only the second hit into that sector of Busch Stadium this season. The first had been hit three innings earlier Tuesday night by teammate Bill Sarni, a right-handed batter.

Rookie Puerto Rican southpaw Luis Arroyo, scored his second big league victory, Arroyo, striking out nine and walking three, yielded only five hits—three to Del Ennis and two to Willie Jones.

Jones' ninth-inning single with Ennis on base sent the game into extra innings.

Driver Fined At Indianapolis Speedway Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Two race cars skidded into a retaining wall at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Tuesday and one of the drivers was fined for ignoring yellow caution lights. Neither driver was hurt.

The American Automobile Assn. fined veteran driver Leroy Warringer, 36, Indianapolis, $50 for failure to heed four yellow caution lights flashed when 43-year-old Len Duncan's McNamara special went into a spin on the northwest turn.

Duncan, a Philadelphian, lost control of the car while it was traveling about 125 miles an hour and it skidded more than 500 feet, most of it sideways, before smashing into the wall. There was some doubt whether the car could be repaired for the race.

Warringer's car sustained only minor damage.

Time trials for the May 30 race will start Saturday, weather permitting, and cars with the 33 best speeds in the qualifying sessions will start. Other qualifying sessions have been scheduled for Sunday and May 21 and 22.

Ex-World Champ, Tommy Burns, Dies At 74

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Tommy Burns, world heavyweight boxing champion from 1906 to 1908, died in a hospital here Tuesday. He was 74.

The colorful oldtimer came here a few days ago from his home at Coalinga, Calif., to enter a religious order. He collapsed during the morning, apparently from a heart attack, and died a few hours later in the Vancouver General Hospital.

His widow survives.

Burns won the championship from Marvin Root in a 20-round bout at Los Angeles, Feb. 23, 1906. He lost it to Jack Johnson at Sydney, Australia, the police halting the fierce battle in the 14th round.

Canadian-born Burns had a stormy career, and dropped the championship after 11 fights, some lasting only one round.

Olin Humphries Suspended

CHICAGO (AP)—Olin Humphries of Ashmore, Ill., a well-known owner and driver, Tuesday was suspended by the Illinois Harness Racing Commission on charges of doping one of his horses.

The action stemmed from a victory by Humphries' horse, Olin Spencer, at Maywood Park. A routine saliva test showed traces of a drug caffeine, the commission reported.

Humphries will be under suspension until June 4 and will be automatically reinstated two days later.

Commission chairman Evert Jordan said there was no definite proof the horse had been purposely fed the caffeine. Jordan said that under commission rules, however, it is presumed that the owner is responsible if a positive test is found.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

We had an interesting chat with Dummy Taylor last night and after discovering he attended the Cardinal-Brave game in St. Louis Sunday we asked him the $63 question—what's the matter with the Cardinals? "Good hitters, no pitchers," was the former Giants 20-game winner's reply. His answer went right along with several other local fans opinions.

We've heard more than one rabid Cardinal fan say they should either sell Stan Musial or bench him. Of course, there are plenty of other baseball followers who get up in arms when this is mentioned. However, most of the fans we've talked with blame the Cardinals' poor showing on their pitching or manager. We have our own ideas but Dummy's opinion goes a long way with us and we'll stick with him—they must get better pitching or select better pitchers.

We asked the former right-handed hurler the other $64 question—whos gonna stop the Dodgers and get the following one word reply—Giants. Again we won't argue.

He made a very interesting comment regarding side-armed-pitching. "The overhanded hurlers get a hop on the ball and the side-armed hurlers don't." He then informed us the ball Eddie Matthews hit Sunday in St. Louis was a side-armed delivery by Cardinal hurler Schultz. (Matthews blast cleared the stands and sailed across Grand Avenue).

We also learned Dummy's boss, Giants scout Gene Thompson, looks for this when scouting a young hurler. He likes to see the boys throwing straight overhead. Incidentally Thompson has been in town a couple of times this spring and anticipates coming back before the prep and college season closes. He is interested in a couple of the local boys and is anxious to see the high school team in a town about 20 miles from here.

Did you know that Jacksonville now has a lighted golf driving range? The latest addition to the local sports recreational program for the young and old men and women is located at Howard Davidson's place on the old state road. It has the latest in modern equipment and plenty of "swing-ing room."

Antonelli, Mays Snark Giants' 8-4 Win Over Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tricky, reliable Johnny Antonelli, assisted by Willie Mays homer and a 4-run sixth inning, Tuesday night led the New York Giants to an 8-4 win over the Cincinnati Redlegs. The win was Antonelli's seventh straight over the Reds in the last two years.

The game was split wide open in the sixth inning when the Giants scored four runs, routing Johnny Klippstein, and shattering a 2-2 tie. Davey Williams walked and shortstop Alvin Dark singled. Monty Irvin doubled off the left field wall, scoring Williams and Dark. Big Willie Mays then blasted his first homer.

Klippstein was replaced by Art Fowler, who stopped the scoring.

The Reds opened the scoring with a home run in the first by third baseman Chuck Harmon. This was matched in the second when Hank Thompson smashed one over the right field screen, scoring behind Mays, hit by a pitched ball.

The score was 2-2 in the third when Harmon lined a single to center, bringing in Klippstein, also hit by a pitched ball.

The Reds perked up for a seventh inning rally with two runs, including a homer by Wally Post.

The final Giant score came on another May home run, his sixteenth of the season.

Portocarrero On Disabled List

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Right-hander Arnold Portocarrero was placed on the disabled list by Manager Lou Boudreau Tuesday after a medical examination showed the Kansas City Athletics' pitcher has a sore and inflamed tendon in his shoulder.

Dr. George Bennett of Johns Hopkins Hospital who examined the big hurler Monday recommended that he refrain from throwing for from 15 to 18 days. Dr. Bennett emphasized that Portocarrero's injury was not severe and said that with proper rest he should be able to throw as well as ever.

Baker's Single Lone Cub Safety; Snider Blasts 200th Homer

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Don Newcombe, chastened Brooklyn pitcher Tuesday hurled a one-hitter for his first complete game this season as the sensational Dodgers defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-0 for their 11th straight victory.

Gene Baker's clean single in the fourth was the only hit off Newcombe.

Duke Snider's ninth homer of the season and the 200th of his major league career started the Dodgers to their 22nd victory against only 2 defeats and a triumph which surpassed their opening record string of 10 straight.

Snider's blow came in the sixth against Warren Hacker, the Cubs' tough-luck hurler. In the seventh, Newcombe had a hand in producing an insurance run with his second single which moved Don Hoak from first to third and enabled him to score on Junior Gilliam's sacrifice fly.

Newcombe notched his fourth victory of the season without defeating his first start since April 24. It was a notable comeback after last week's ruckus in which he was indefinitely suspended for refusing to pitch in batting practice.

The suspension was lifted one day later when Newcombe, who had been sent home by the Dodgers, apologized to Manager Walt Alston.

Newcombe was in superb form, using only 95 pitches in facing the minimum of 27 batters. Baker was nipped trying to steal second after his single in the fourth.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market sold lower Tuesday but last minute strength in a handful of chemical shares helped cushion the fall considerably.

The rise in favored chemicals carried up to between $2 and $6. Gains elsewhere were small. The decline sent prices down around $3 with a few extending a greater distance.

Outside of the chemicals, most major divisions were lower including the key railroads, steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts and utilities.

The market opened mixed and almost immediately started selling lower. In the final hour, demand for chemicals developed, and many other issues improved somewhat in sympathy.

Brokers in recent days have been cautious in their approach to the market because of their belief that a consolidation move is under way.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 40 cents at $163.90. It held unchanged Monday.

The industrial component Tuesday was unchanged, railroads lost $1.00, and utilities were off 20 cents.

Volume wasn't very impressive at 2,150,000 shares. That compares with Monday's 2,090,000.

The American Stock Exchange was largely lower on volume of 750,000 shares, compared with 720,000 Monday.

In the cattle section prices were mostly steady on steers and heifers. Salable receipts totaled 5,000 head. A few loads of high choice and mixed choice and prime steers sold at $23.00 to $24.50, the top.

Good and choice steers brought $18.50 to $22.75. Comparable heifers moved at $18.50 to $22.50. Cows were mostly steady at $11.25 to $13.00 for utility and commercial. Vealers held steady at $22.00 to $27.00 for good and choice.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 1,500. Lambs mostly were 50 cents down. Good and choice shorn lambs with No. 1 and No. 2 fall shorn pelts were bought at $17.00 to $18.00.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. government bonds were firm Tuesday while the corporate bond market declined irregularly.

Treasury obligations ended unchanged to fractionally higher.

652,886,000 Bushels Winter Wheat Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 652,886,000 bushels.

The figure is 9,366,000 bushels less than the 662,252,000 forecast a month ago. It compares with last year's production of 790,737,000 bushels and with the 10-year (1944-53) average of 867,390,000 bushels.

This year's wheat crop, like last year's, is being produced under a rigid federal crop control program designed to prevent the production of surplus supplies. Record size reserves have been accumulated, most of it owned by the government under farm price support programs.

No forecast was given for spring wheat inasmuch as it is now in the process of being planted.

This year's rye crop was forecast at 29,345,000 bushels compared with 23,688,000 last year and 21,097,000 for the 10-year average.

The yield of winter wheat per harvested acre was forecast at 19.3 bushels compared with 20.5 last year and 18 for the ten-year average.

The yield of rye per harvested acre was forecast at 13.5 bushels compared with 13.8 last year and 12.1 for the ten-year average.

The acreage of winter wheat to be harvested was forecast at 33,754,000 acres compared with 38,636,000 last year and 47,942,000 for the ten-year average.

The acreage of rye to be harvested was forecast at 2,168,000 acres compared with 1,718,000 last year and 1,740,000 for the ten-year average.

The acreages for harvest, the yield per acre and the production, respectively, of winter wheat by major producing states included:

Indiana 1,172,000 acres for harvest, 28 bushels per acre and production 32,816,000 bushels; Illinois 1,472,000, 27.5 and 40,480,000.

The acreage for harvest, the yield per acre and the production, respectively, of rye by major-producing states included:

Indiana 99,000 acres for harvest, 15 bushels per acre and production 1,485,000 bushels; Illinois 162,000, 155 and 2,511,110.

WHEAT, RYE DISPLAY STRENGTH, REST FAIL TO ADVANCE

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and rye displayed strength on the Board of Trade Tuesday but the rest of the grain market was unable to advance.

In wheat the rally came late in the session, wiping out losses set during the morning. Rye was firm right from the start. Soybeans ended as the weakest cereal after a firm start.

Wheat closed 1/4 to 1 cent higher, corn 1/4 lower to 3/4 higher, oats 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, rye 2 to 2 1/4 higher, soybeans 1 1/4-1 3/4 lower and lard 7 to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Wheat started to turn upward after the weekly crop report came out. This report was quite pessimistic about wheat prospects. It said that in Kansas the drought was intensifying and "wheat suffered additional damage and yield prospects were cut considerably."

The advance in rye reflected strength in the brown grain at Winnipeg. It is believed Canadian crop prospects have been reduced by wet weather. Production of rye in the United States was estimated by the Agriculture Department at 29,345,000 bushels against 23,688,000 produced last year.

Soybeans gained early in sympathy with firmness in soybean oil futures, but the advance brought out profit taking. Bean oil was a little higher in the cash market but meal held unchanged at the year's low.

State Legislature

Speed Limits

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Highway speed limits of 65 miles an hour in daytime and 55 at night were approved Tuesday by the Illinois Senate.

In another development, the Broyles bill requiring loyalty oaths from public employees survived an attempt to kill it on the House floor.

The speed limit bill, which backers said would cut the traffic toll, passed the Senate by a vote of 42 to 7 and went to the House for final action.

Sen. Fred Hart (R-Stratton), chief sponsor of the bill, declared that excessive speed is "still the No. 1 killer on the highways" but some senators disputed that speed is responsible for most accidents.

Sen. R. G. Crisenberry (R-Murphysboro) objected to the Murphy on the grounds it would create a statewide speed trap.

Illinois now has no fixed highway speed for passenger cars.

Broyles Bill

The fight over the Broyles loyalty oath bill broke out in the House when two Chicago Democrats, Reps. John Ryan and Charles Weber, offered an amendment to kill the bill by striking its enacting clause.

The House electric voting tabulator indicated they had succeeded by a vote of 71 to 67. However, before the roll call could be announced to make it official, Rep. Gordon Kerr (R-Brookport) moved to postpone the bill and the house agreed, thus staving off further action.

Ryan said he sought to kill the bill because it had taken up too much of the lawmakers' time and he also wanted to save Gov. Stratton from any "embarrassment." Stratton vetoed the Broyles bills two years ago.

Rep. John Lewis of Marshall, Republican floor leader, said Ryan's assumption that Stratton would be embarrassed by passage of the legislation was unwarranted.

Before this occurred, the House adopted four amendments including one by Rep. G. William Horsley (R-Springfield) making it permissible for governing bodies of cities, towns, villages, townships and counties to require the oaths from employees.

As the bill stands, its mandatory oath taking applies to state employees, school teachers and some other public workers.

Other Action

Other legislative action included: The University of Illinois budget bills amounting to more than 96 million dollars for the 1955-57 biennium passed the Senate and advanced to the House.

Also approved by the Senate and referred to the House was the two-year appropriation for the State Safety Department. The department's budget includes an extra $1,337,000 to hire an additional 100 state policemen if the Legislature authorizes the increase.

Sen. George Drach (R-Springfield) amended his bill to add an extra circuit judge in downstate circuits which have a city of at least 50,000. Previously, the bill applied to cities of 75,000 or more.

A bill creating an Illinois economic development commission to study ways of bringing more industry to the state passed the House and moved to the Senate.

State Sales Tax

Twelve Illinois House members led by Rep. Franklin U. Stransky of Savanna launched a move Tuesday aimed at blocking a state sales tax increase requested by Gov. Stratton.

Stransky, Republican chairman of the House Executive Committee, rapped the governor's two-year budget and said that "there is fat that could be cut without impairing any service."

He outlined a "painless solution" as a substitute plan under which he said that school, welfare and other essential needs could be met without new or increased taxes.

As the keystone of his plan, Stransky submitted three bills to set up a building authority which would issue bonds for financing construction at educational, welfare and penal institutions. Eight Republicans and three Democrats joined him on the bills.

Stratton has recommended a sales tax boost of one cent for one year to raise an additional 100 million dollars which would go for increased amounts to schools and mental hospitals. The Senate Revenue Committee is holding another hearing on Stratton's tax bill Wednesday.

Remap Proposal

An Illinois Senate subcommittee Tuesday voted in favor of a proposal by Rep. George Brydia (R-Proprietstown) to combine his county of Whiteside with Bureau to form a new Senate district.

The subcommittee action must be confirmed by the Senate Committee on Reapportionment and Elections before being submitted to the General Assembly.

Rep. Joseph Peterson (R-Prince-ton) opposed Brydia's suggestion and favored the subcommittee's previous report which aligned his home county of Bureau with Henry. In this arrangement, Whiteside made up a district with Rock Island and Mercer counties.

Turn Signals

A bill to require installation of traffic turn signals on all automobiles and trucks operated within the state by July 1, 1956 was favorably recommended Tuesday by an Illinois House committee.

The vote by the Motor Vehicles and Traffic Regulation Committee was 12 to 3.

Under present law, new cars sold within the state must be equipped with the turn devices. The bill by Rep. George Dunne (D-Chicago) would extend the requirement to all other cars, and to trucks.

In response to a question, Dunne estimated that installation costs would run about $20 per car in the so-called low price field.

Additional Patrolmen

The committee also endorsed a bill calling for addition of 100 patrolmen to the state police force which now has a strength of 500.

By a 17 to 2 vote, the committee accepted a subcommittee's report and recommended defeat of three bills to provide for the distribution of Illinois automobile license plates at county seats.

Other Action

In other House committee action: The Public Aid Committee rejected 16 to 8 a bill to extend from one to three years the residence requirements to qualify for receipts of poor relief grants.

The Liquor Committee okayed a bill to repeal the law prohibiting retail sales of whisky in containers with less than one ounce capacity, and a second bill to outlaw sale of alcoholic beverages in bowling alleys.

Hobby, Scheele Refuse To Testify At Hearing Investigating Vaccine

A special team due in Detroit Wednesday.

Mrs. Hobby said Tuesday "a great deal of new information" about the vaccine has been uncovered by scientists, and that it is only prudent to pass it along to manufacturers in the interest of additional safety.

Secretary of welfare Hobby said Tuesday "a great deal of new information" about the Salk polio vaccine has been uncovered by scientists, and that it is only prudent to pass it along to manufacturers in the interest of additional safety.

She implied that federal public health officials would begin distributing the information to vaccine makers in a series of plant inspections which start Wednesday.

Millions of children already have received their first shots. After some of them developed polio, a group of leading scientists in the field met here to study present testing standards and requirements.

It is this group, Mrs. Hobby said, which contributed a good deal of new information about the vaccine.

In an address to the Republican Women's National Conference here, Mrs. Hobby added that it is wise to pass the "total industrial experience" along to each manufacturer "in the interest of affording additional factors of safety."

The Public Health Service's count of persons who came down with polio after being inoculated was raised Tuesday to 52, one more than Monday.

The service said 44 of the persons had received vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif., seven vaccine of Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis, and one vaccine of Wyeth Laboratories, Marietta, Pa.

12% STATE'S CORN CROP IS PLANTED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—About 12 per cent of the state's corn crop has been planted to date, compared with 20 per cent at this time a year ago, the Illinois Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday.

Planting had started throughout the state but was interrupted by rain during the past few days.

Rain also brought soybean planting to a standstill. Less than 10 per cent of the soybean acreage has been planted, compared with 20 per cent a year ago.

The State-Federal Agriculture departments reported the winter wheat outlook improved during April and the crop is now estimated at 40 million bushels. This is 10 per cent below 1954 production.

A rye crop of 2,200,000 bushels was forecast, 10 per cent larger than last year.

DESCRIBE WORK ON CANCER VACCINE

NEW YORK (AP)—A first step toward a vaccine against cancer was described Tuesday to the Society of American Bacteriologists.

Cancer cells, pooled from 56 human patients, were injected repeatedly under the skins of horses. The horses developed antibodies in their blood against the cancer cells.

The antibodies proved able to destroy human cancer cells in test tubes without harming healthy cells, said Dr. Bertil Bjorklund, State Laboratory of Bacteriology, Stockholm, Sweden, and Drs. John and Ruth Graham, husband and wife, from Vincent Memorial Hospital, Boston.

Warn Not To Expect Too Much

For arranging a meeting of government heads.

The Western Powers said that "in the limited time for which the heads of government could meet, they would not undertake to agree upon substantive answers to the major difficulties facing the world." Instead they would give "a new impetus" to the search for answers "by establishing the basis for the detailed work which will be required."

Before the note was made public, President Eisenhower had already indicated that a top level Big Four conference was virtually certain some time this summer, if Premier Bulganin is ready for it.

Eisenhower told a Republican women's meeting here that he "would do anything — meet with anyone, anywhere" in the interest of world peace.

His press secretary, James C. Hagerty, announced that Secretary of State Dulles at Paris was authorized to arrange for a meeting of the four chiefs of government "if it seems feasible and useful."

Dulles, Macmillan and Pinay are expected to talk out details with Foreign Minister Molotov in a projected meeting at Vienna next weekend.

Eisenhower's willingness to hold a meeting of government chiefs without waiting for a full session of foreign ministers was a reversal of his previous insistence that the foreign ministers meet first. He apparently shifted positions under pressure under Sir Anthony Eden's British government which is facing an election May 26. An all-out effort for peace with the Soviets, which such a meeting would symbolize is a major issue for Eden in his contest with Clement Attlee's Labor party.

India Strengthens Position In Nepal, Sikkim, Bhutan

KALIMPONG, India (AP)—The Indian government is moving to consolidate its position in this strategic Himalayan area, long considered a fertile spot for the spread of Red Chinese influences.

India has accepted Communist China's promises for peaceful co-existence; but New Delhi is taking nothing for granted when it comes to the buffer states of Nepal, Sikkim and Bhutan.

These three states, with their frontiers only a few miles from Kalimpong, stand between India and the Red Chinese occupiers of Tibet. All three are oriented toward India, to varying degrees; all three are considered ripe for Red infiltration.

New Delhi reportedly has made it clear to Peiping that it would be extremely concerned at any Chinese attempts to turn these states toward Peiping. But, apparently without too much effort on Peiping's part, pressure is building up against India's Himalayan position.

In steps seemingly intended to counter this pressure, India is offering technical and economic aid to the three buffer states. New Delhi believes its Himalayan position can be made stronger by building up the region's underdeveloped economies, rather than by trying to create military defenses.

In the past five years India has given Nepal $16,800,000 in economic aid and plans to give an additional $3,360,000 during the 1955-56 fiscal year.

Sikkim is getting $1,155,000 in economic aid from India this year. New Delhi has spent an equal amount since 1947 on the development and maintenance of Sikkim's assistance, with Indian technical assistance, Sikkim is embarking on a 7-year development plan.

Bhutan, whose feudal Maharajah is trying to cope with a budding democratic movement, has accepted an Indian scholar to help write a "popular" constitution. Indian technicians also are expected to enter Bhutan soon to study flood and transportation problems. The Bhutanese government, which never has been too anxious for outside contacts, has not sought large-scale Indian aid.

While Sikkim and Bhutan are recognized protectorates of India, Nepal stands as an independent kingdom. However, Indian views have a strong influence on its foreign and domestic policies. There is considerable poverty in Nepal and some unrest. The Reds reportedly have been capitalizing on these problems.

REPORT SOVIET FIRED H-BOMB LAST MONTH

SAPPORO, Japan, Wednesday (AP)—A report by a panel of Japanese scientists Monday indicated Russia set off a hydrogen bomb in Siberia last month.

The scientists have been studying the origin of radioactive ashes which showered the northern home island of Hokkaido from April 9 to April 13.

They said that westerly and northwesterly winds prevailed when the ashes fell on Hokkaido, making it strongly probable they came from Siberia.

In 1953, Japan produced 302 full-length motion pictures, only 58 less than the United States.

SCHEDULE FINAL '55 A-BLAST FOR TODAY

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The 14th and final atomic blast of the 1955 series was scheduled Tuesday for 5:05 a.m. Wednesday, weather permitting.

The Atomic Energy Commission said after a weather conference that conditions appear favorable.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

XXVI
AT the precise moment... his furious order to Pitts, inside the bank, fate was moving in on Jesse from along Division Street, outside it. And she was grinning a little as she moved, thinking perhaps of Jolly Wynmore.
Like Jolly, Henry M. Wheeler was also a 19-year-old college student. Home on summer vacation from Michigan University, at the moment Cole Younger swung off his bay to begin fussing with his saddlebag, he was talking with J. S. "Now, why the heck you suppose that man in the long duster is fooling so long with that strap? Stopping right in the middle of Division. Say—" For the first time, he noticed Clell. "Look yonder. There's another of them standing by the bank door. Same coat and all."
"Henry, my boy—" Allen had seen Jesse and Bob and Pitts ride up earlier — "there's more here than meets the eye. You set tight."
With the order, he moved down the street toward the bank. Coming up the sidewalk unh

Leak In Waverly Gas Storage Hinders Operation

WASHINGTON (#)—The Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. has run into "some rather serious operating difficulties" through leakage at its underground natural gas storage field in Waverly, Ill.

"Just how serious they are, and whether or not they will be insurmountable, have not been determined," counsel for the company told the Federal Power Commission Tuesday.

In the meantime, he said, Panhandle is "exploring alternate means" of increasing its pipeline capacity for next winter.

The storage project was to have been part of an expansion program which Panhandle said would increase its capacity by 455 million cubic feet of gas. The Waverly field alone would have supplied 200 million.

Atty. William E. Miller disclosed the operating difficulties at an FPC hearing on the expansion program. The hearing was recessed indefinitely following his announcement.

Prospectors Fail, Allegedly Turn To Robbing Of Bank

CHICAGO (#)—Two former Chicagoans were accused today of turning to bank robbery after failing as uranium prospectors.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Joseph E. Tobin identified the men, now being held by the FBI in Kansas City, Mo., as Jack R. Cope, 31, and William B. Potter, 48, both formerly of 4122 N. Kostner Ave.

Tobin filed in U.S. District Court a criminal information charging Cope and Potter with robbing the Capital Savings & Loan Assn. of $2,802 Jan. 7.

Donald S. Hostetter, agent in charge of the FBI in Chicago, said Cope and Potter set out from Chicago last fall to prospect for uranium at Superstition Mountain near Phoenix, Ariz. When that venture failed, Hostetter added, the men embarked upon a series of bank robberies.

Hostetter said the men were seized three months ago shortly after robbing the Cornerstone Bank in South West City, McDonald County, Mo., of $50,838. The FBI agent added that Potter operated the Potter Protective System, a neighborhood watchman service, prior to his venture into uranium prospecting. Cope worked for Potter as a guard, Hostetter said.

Potter and Cope will go on trial in Kansas City.

CHARGE OF DRAFT EVASION AGAINST OBJECTOR DROPPED

CHICAGO (#)—Draft evasion charges against a member of the Harshmanite sect have been dropped.

The U. S. Supreme Court recently ruled that members of religious sects accused of draft violations must be given reports of special hearings.

A similar charge against another Harshmanite of Sullivan was dismissed last week for the same reason.

Hotdogs Win Out At School Patrol Picnic

School boys and girls who guard the safety of other children at street crossings all year are not the faint-hearted kind. When they set their hearts and minds on attending a picnic, they attend it! What's a little rain, anyhow?

A drenching rain fell over Morgan, Scott, Pike, and Cass counties early Tuesday morning, followed by gray skies that threatened even more moisture. But the 1,000 boys and girls who serve on School Patrols in their home communities never dreamed of staying home from the annual picnic sponsored by the Chicago Motor Club in Jacksonville each year.

Carter Wilson, manager of the Chicago Motor Club office in this city, didn't permit a little thing like an inch rain to wash out his plans, either. The hot dogs, buns, tater chips, drinks, and other good things had been bought ready for the feast.

The big pavilion at Nichols park was the center of festivities as the frisky guests arrived around 10:30 a. m. in school buses. They were getting out of school, weren't they? Hot dogs taste as good under a cloudy sky as when the sun shines, especially if given an extra application of mustard.

The lunch was served at noon to an appreciative crowd of youngsters, who tackled the heap of refreshments with zest.

Each year the Chicago Motor Club entertains the School Patrol members in this area in recognition of their services in promoting safety at school crossings. In the crowd were boys and girls who take their duties seriously. They give attentive duty to groups crossing streets, and are on the job in all kinds of weather.

School Patrols don't back down from rain, mud, or hotdogs!
